1. Active Committers

Important

Please don't write to any developer directly if you need help on using FOP. Only if you submit questions to the FOP User Mailing List will other FOP users be able to profit from answers given to your question. Another point is that a developer may have gone inactive or is on holidays in which case you may not get an answer in time.

- Max Berger (MB) is currently a PostDoc pursuing an academic career in computer science. His main interest in FOP is to improve the DocBook to PDF tool-chain to produce high quality output, while still conforming to given style-guides. See his home page for more information.
- Chris Bowditch (CB) is a Java/VB Programmer from England.
- Jay Bryant (JB) is a freelance information architect in Austin, TX.
